The Thriving Earth Exchange is sponsoring three community science events so you can learn the theory, practice the techniques, and network with experts. Check out our Fall Meeting webpage for information on the speakers who are bringing community science to a global scientific conference setting.

Can't Attend in Person?

Our Theory Union Session Will Be Available Online!

Don't miss out on what our speakers have to say. Attend virtually by visiting the Virtual Options webpage.

Community Science Will Be Making Guest Appearances at the Student and Careers Lounge

Hear from two members of the Thriving Earth Exchange team on bridging the gap between science and society, and on the importance of applying scientific research to community priorities.

Students and early career scientists can also hear experiences from TEX project leaders, delve deeper into community science, and identify ways to become more involved.

Sound cool?
Visit our Students and Career Lounge webpage for times and locations.
